

Exodus Trademark List

A trademark distinguishes the source of a product or service. A trademark can be a word, phrase, symbol, or other design.

When using trademarks in a publication or other authorized uses within the United States, you must use the appropriate <sup>TM</sup>, <sup>SM</sup>, or ® symbol on first use. For relevant uses outside the United States, instead use the proper trademark attribution notice.

Below is a non-exhaustive list of Exodus trademarks. Trademarks are adjectives and shall not be used as or made into verbs or made plural or possessive.

The absence of a product or logo in this list is not a waiver of Exodus's trademark or other intellectual property related to it.
