Exodus Announces BNB Smart Chain Support in Web3 Wallet

Exodus Movement, Inc. (tZERO and Securitize ATS:EXOD), (“the Company”) the leading self-custodial cryptocurrency software platform today announced the addition of BNB Smart Chain (“BSC”) support in Exodus’s browser-based Web3 Wallet.

“We are excited to add BNB Smart Chain to the Exodus Web3 Wallet given BSC’s history of bringing DeFi to the masses,” said JP Richardson, CEO and Co-Founder. “Millions of large and small investors alike are drawn to BNB Smart Chain’s reliability and low fees. The Exodus Web3 Wallet is the ideal platform to explore Web3 projects, now including the BNB Smart Chain. Customers can earn yield or simply browse NFTs on multiple supported networks. Our browser-based Web3 Wallet is the only one they’ll need.”

With thousands of dApps and millions of active addresses, BNB Smart Chain is home to many of Web3’s most beloved projects including PancakeSwap, Gameta, and 1Inch. The network’s strong offerings also encompass popular decentralized finance (DeFi) protocols ApeSwap, Venus, BiSwap, and Alpaca Finance; NFT projects; GameFi, featuring thousands of games; and everything in-between — with Exodus users seated front and center.

Exodus’s browser-based Web3 Wallet is the first multi-chain product where Solana, Ethereum, Algorand, BSC, and Polygon blockchains meet the world of Web3. With support for more major DeFi chains including Fantom and Avalanche expected to launch by year-end, Exodus is the only Web3 wallet you need.
