Exodus Announces Polygon Support in Web3 Wallet

Exodus Movement, Inc. (tZERO and Securitize ATS:EXOD), (“the Company”) the leading self-custodial cryptocurrency software platform, and Polygon Technology, a developer of Polygon, the Ethereum scaling blockchain protocol Polygon supporting Web3 technology for millions of users, today announced the addition of Polygon support in Exodus’s browser-based Web3 Wallet.

“The addition of Polygon support in our Web3 Wallet provides another fast, low-cost alternative to Ethereum for our customers,” said JP Richardson, CEO and Co-Founder of Exodus. “Our Web3 wallet is the premier self-custodial, multi-chain solution to explore Web3. Customers can toggle effortlessly between networks and buy, sell and view NFTs on all supported blockchains within our beautifully designed platform. Polygon is the latest network addition, connecting customers to thousands of dApps within its growing ecosystem.”

Polygon was designed to work in parallel with the Ethereum network to improve functionality by reducing transaction fees, increasing throughput, and promoting infrastructure development. Polygon currently supports ERC-20 tokens and its native coin, MATIC.

Boasting just over 53,000 dApps, Polygon has become the de facto platform for Web3. The network offers an array of blue-chip services ranging from decentralized finance (DeFi) dapps such as Aave, Curve, Balancer, and Uniswap, to the best gaming and metaverse platforms, including Decentraland, Somnium Space, Sandbox, Atari (multiverse), and Aavegotchi — all of which are now easily accessible to Exodus users.

Hamzah Khan, Head of DeFi and Labs at Polygon Technology, said: “The addition of Polygon to Exodus’ web3 wallet will bring about a significant leap in DeFi accessibility, allowing anyone to gain seamless access to over 53,000 decentralized services. Exodus provides an easy-to-use solution for crypto veterans and newbies alike, and Polygon's integration will help further the goal of bringing a new wave of adoption to the DeFi sector.”

Exodus’s browser-based Web3 Wallet is the first multi-chain product where Solana, Ethereum, Algorand, and Polygon blockchains meet the world of web3. Support for other major DeFi chains, including Binance Smart Chain, Fantom, and Avalanche are expected to launch by year-end.

In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by the following words: "will," "expect," "would," "intend," "believe," or other comparable terminology. Forward-looking statements in this document include, but are not limited to, quotations from management regarding confidence in our products, services, business trajectory and plans, certain business metrics, including anticipated revenues and net income for the year and, in particular, through the second quarter of 2022, and the timing, means and amount of anticipated stock repurchases.  - unexpected or rapid changes in the growth or decline of our domestic and/or international markets;
 - increasing competition from existing and new competitors;
 - rapidly evolving and groundbreaking advances that fundamentally alter the digital asset and cryptocurrency industry;
 - continued compliance with regulatory requirements;
 - volatility in the price of cryptocurrencies, such as Bitcoin, and other digital assets;

- the risks relating to our ability to sustain or increase profitability or revenue growth in future periods (or minimize declines) while controlling expenses;
- the compromise of user data for any reason;
- foreign operational, political and other risks relating to our operations; and
- the loss of key personnel, labor shortages or work stoppages.

More information on the factors, risks and uncertainties that could cause or contribute to such differences is included in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including in the "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion & Analysis" sections of our offering statement on Form 1-A.
